HYPERION.

Christmas day at the Hyperion is to be fittingly marked by a performance of exceptional merit in the shape of the first New Haven presentation by Augustin Daly's company of Shakespeare's "A Mid-Summer Night's Dream." Scenically this play is a series of beautiful pictures, in which all Mr. Daly's wonderful resources in delicate and picturesque effects are employed, the electrical features and fairy reveals being exceptionally beautiful. In the ensembles there is a charm of the dainty choruses and the affluent orchestral music, arranged by Mr. Henry Widmer, mostly from Mendelssohn's music to "A Mid-Summer Night's Dream."

On Friday night with matinee Saturday Charles H. Hopper will appear at the Hyperion as "Chimble Fadden," in a dramatization of Edward W. Townsend's book of that name by Augustus Thomas.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

The Waldo Comedy company opened a week's engagement last night before a good sized audience. The opening production was "The Black Flag," a drama in five acts. Numerous new and up to date specialties were introduced by Hal Brown, the Gleasons, Lillie La Rose, Alfred Kelsey and the Elmore sisters.

One of the principal attractions is an orchestra of ten soloists, who give one of the finest musical programs that has been heard in this house in a long time. The program last night included the overture from "William Tell," a descriptive piece, "A Hunt in the Black Forest," and a humorous piece, "The Musician's Strike." This musical program was interspersed throughout the piece. To hear such music is worth the price of admission alone, without seeing the most excellent performance besides. The company is a good one and includes Kate Woods-Fiske, Lillie Morey, Marguerite Cushman, El M. Crane, Gilbert Ely, Sie Condit, J. C. Mack, Ned C. Bradley and D. Dangerfield. The musical director is J. C. M. Fulton. The company will appear every evening this week, and will give a matinee every day.

"The Two Kids," a bright little comedy from the pen of Miss Eunice Fitch, written especially for the Elmore sisters, will be presented at the matinee to-day and at this evening's performance. After the matinee Little Jennie and Mamie Elmore and the Gleason children will hold a reception upon the stage, at which all the children in the audience will be presented with beautiful French dolls and musical toys. At the Christmas matinee, "Legally Dead" will be the bill, and in the evening "The Black Flag" will be repeated.

POL'S WONDERLAND THEATRE.

Christmas week was ushered in with very large audiences in attendance both afternoon and evening. It is a great show. Every feature was good, and some were more than excellent. Mr. Filson and Miss Errol, in their bright comedietta, "Women vs. Men," carried off the honors. In this comedietta a very keen satire is given on some of the more ostentatious follies of high society, and it is highly amusing. Mr. Filson and Miss Errol weave into the fanny situations and sayings of their comedietta a vein of fun-making and a personality that are peculiarly acceptable. It is no exaggeration to say that for high class comedy "Women vs. Men" has no superior in the act of any sketch team or comedy combination on the vaudeville stage. Stuart, the male Part, made an excellent impression also in his brilliant impersonation of a prima donna. Others who did excellent work are the brothers Dianas, the Harbecks, George Evans, Mr. Lynch and Miss Joseph, Devaux and Archer. Miss Lydia Peck, and Hattie and Jarvis. Extra shows will be given on Christmas day.

Another 10 Per Cent. Dividend.
Washington, D. C., Dec. 23.—A second dividend of 10 per cent. in favor of the creditors of the First National bank at Washington, making in all 25 per cent. on claims proved, amounting to $332,436.37, has been declared.

Coming Home for Christmas.
Washington, D. C., Dec. 23.—Congressman Hill left this morning for his home in Norwalk to spend the holidays.

DEAD MAN REVIVED.
He Was Hanged for Murder, but Electricity Restored Him.
Dayton, Wash., Dec. 23.—A remarkable story comes from Pomeroy, Wash., where Henry M. Cross was recently hanged for murder. After being pronounced dead by physicians his body was turned over to an old friend of the murderer, who, by means of restoratives, revived the officially dead man. Three reputable residents of Pomeroy assert that they have conversed with Cross within the past week, and that he is now in hiding from the authorities and will shortly be taken out of the country. An official investigation will be immediately inaugurated.

In Southington.
Dec. 23.—Mrs. Adaline C. Claffin, aged seventy-nine years, died yesterday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. H. J. Merriman, of paralysis. The old lady suffered two paralytic strokes during the past two weeks, which resulted in her death. Prayers will be held this evening at 7:30 at the house by Rev. T. C. Hanna and the remains will be taken on the morning train tomorrow for burial in Hancock, Vt.
Mrs. Mary E. wife of Joseph Thompson, who resides on the West mountain, died last night at her home of heart trouble. The old lady was eighty-three years of age and had been ill but a day or two. The funeral, which will be under charge of the town, has not yet been arranged.

A BRIDGEPORT MAN CURED OF Constipation.

There are hundreds of medicines guaranteed in newspaper advertisements to cure that "parent of all evils," constipation, but they do not accomplish what they profess to do—they often relieve, but do not cure this awful complaint.

Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy positively and permanently cures constipation. This is not merely the statement of the discoverer, David Kennedy, M. D., but the experience of those who have used it for this complaint, and these statements come right from persons in our own state, who are known to many of our residents.

John Brown of 294 Shelton street, Bridgeport, Conn., in a letter to Dr. Kennedy on this very subject, says: "Count me in among those who sing the praises of

DR. DAVID KENNEDY'S FAVORITE REMEDY

"I for years suffered from constipation of the bowels, and was continually switching off on this and that 'sure cure,' but though they gave me temporary relief, I soon found that they ceased to have any effect whatever. Your Favorite Remedy gets to the source of the trouble, creates an appetite, makes you capable of doing just double the amount of work you formerly did." It cures indigestion, makes people well. It restores the liver to a healthy condition, and cures scrofula, rheumatism, dyspepsia, and all kidney, bladder and urinary diseases. All druggists. $1.00 bottle.

"AUNT SALLY" BROWN.

She Died at the Great Age of 105.
"Aunt Sally" Brown died in East Granby Saturday afternoon, the 21st, at the great age of 105 years. She had lived for many years with her grandson, Albert Brown, on the road from Granby to East Granby.

She was born March 23, 1790, in the Ralabro section of Windsor, and spent her entire life within fifteen miles of her birthplace. Her maiden name was Brown and her husband's name was the same. Of her four children two survive, Mrs. Jane Latham, a widow, living in North Granby, and Wadsworth Brown, who, with his mother, have recently made their home with his son Albert. There are also living five grandchildren, four great-grandchildren and four great-great-grandchildren.

Until a year ago, when she had an attack of the grip, "Aunt Sally" was in comparatively good condition. At the time of the celebration of her 105th birthday anniversary, last March, she was in quite a feeble condition, and since then she had gradually failed. Up to this sickness her eyesight was so well preserved that she was able to read easily and to sew. Her hearing became impaired several years ago, but she could hear persons speaking loudly. Until within two years her memory was excellent, and she was able to relate interesting incidents of the occasion when she saw President Washington when he visited Hartford. "Aunt Sally" must have been at that time a little girl, only about nine years old, for Washington died December 14, 1799, of pneumonia.

By the death of Mrs. Brown the distinction of being the oldest woman in the state passes to Mrs. Emily Talcott of West Hartford, who was born on Christmas day, 1790, and was therefore only nine months and two days younger than "Aunt Sally." Mrs. Talcott is the mother-in-law of City Treasurer C. C. Strong of Hartford. Mrs. Talcott is a relative of a former New Haven lady, Mrs. Cushing, wife of W. L. Cushing, who was fifteen years ago rector of Hopkins grammar school.

HER NINETY-SECOND BIRTHDAY.
Mrs. Clarissa Smith of Orange, a lady well known here, celebrated her ninety-second birthday last week. There was a large gathering of friends and relatives at the home of the old lady's daughter, Mrs. Samuel Morse, with whom Mrs. Smith resides. A very pleasant occasion it proved. Mrs. Smith, despite her years, being active and in excellent spirits. A large number of valuable souvenirs of the event were left by the visitors, who departed after a hearty dinner, at which Mrs. Smith did the honors.

Made Complaint.
William James of Yale avenue complained to County Health Officer Hoadley yesterday that Edw. Cunningham, a night soil collector, was not disposing of his collection according to the sanitary laws. Mr. Hoadley has laid the matter before Town Health Officer Gaynor.
